WELLESLEY GROUP K. O.'s F. OF DRAMA WITH "IS ZAT SO"

Fast Stepping Play is Walling Success Before Packed House.

The Friends of the Drama clubhouse rocked with laughter last Friday and Saturday evenings when the Wellesley Players scored a clean knock-out with "Is Zat So", a very clever comedy in three acts by James Gleason and Richard Taber. The following cast was under the direction of George Glendinning:

Eddie "Chick" Cowan C. Elmer Stimets
A. B. "Bap" Hurley Albert J. T. Woll
C. Clinton Blackburn
Harold P. Trefethen
Susan Blackburn Parker
Louise Stewart
Major, The Hon. Maurice Fitz-Stanley
Holt Monaghan
Florence Hanley E. Eleanor McNamara
Robert Parker E. Deane Seely
Marie Mestretti
Bunny Rowe
Master James Blackburn Parker
Milton Grubbs
Grace Hobart
Florence Hill
Fred Hobart
James H. Duffin
John Duffy
James E. Norcross
Angie Van Alsten
Martha Hanlon
Smith
Ernest L. Root
Guests—Lucille Harris, Ernestine Ryan,
Helen T. Norcross, Royal Hatch.

As was the case in two previous years, the Wellesley group brought over a very fine play and an excellent group of players. Although their principal luminary, Harry Lee Grubbs, was not with them this year, he was more than adequately represented in the person of his small son, Milton Grubbs, who came very near to stealing the show.

Partial to the name of Grubbs, though we are, since Harry will, as guest artist, play the title role in "The Outsider" for the Friends of the Drama in March, it must be admitted that no one, not even excepting Jimmy Gleason himself, could have done much better than Anticipating the annual town meeting and election March 6, the list of candidates has swelled considerably since last publication. Among the newest additions to the list of candidates for selectman, bringing the total to seven thus far, are Lawrence Dallin of 8 Cliff street and A. F. Publicover of 13 Brookdale road. The former is the youngest son of Arlington's famous sculptor, Cyrus E. Dallin.

Another name prominent in local politics is that of William E.

Treasurer Hardy Outlines Duties

In the following letter, Town Treasurer Charles A. Hardy, now a candidate for re-election, outlines the duties of that office and tells of at least one of his own innovations, which has earned the town $700 a year. The letter follows:

To the Editor:
Mr. Henry F. Long, Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation recently said: "A Town Treasurer ought to be an expert accountant and bookkeeper."

The keeping of the cash book itself is an important task. Receipts in our town amount to over 4 million dollars a year. The expenditures are about the same.

All salaries and bills are paid by the Treasurer.

The Treasurer alone is liable if he pays out money illegally. We use about 65,000 checks per annum. Our bank accounts must be kept strictly up to date, not only for ourselves but for the U. S. Bank Examiners and the State Auditors.

Lincoln Day Band Concert Tickets in Big Advance Sale

Although the tickets for the 110th Cavalry Band Concert to be given by the Arlington Girl Scouts in the Town Hall on Sunday afternoon, February 12th have been on sale but one week and although the concert is over two weeks away, the sale has been tremendous and the supply is rapidly dwindling.

The concert to be rendered by this famous Cavalry Band will commence at 3:30 p. m. The proceeds are to be used solely for the permanent camp fund of the Arlington Girl Scouts. This is possible through the very generous offer of Chester Whiting, the instructor of the Girl Scout Bugle and Drum Corps, who is also Band Master of the 110th Cavalry Band. He has donated the services of his band to this worthy objective.

WOMAN ROBBED IN OWN DOOR YARD

Right in front of her own home, Mrs. Anna Sweedy of 26 Egerton road was accosted Friday night by a young man with a flashlight who blinded her with the glare, snatched her bag and made his escape in an automobile. Mrs. Sweedy's cries attracted the attention of a neighbor, who notified the police. The thief, who was not apprehended in spite of every effort, was described as about twenty-five, six feet tall and very thin. He wore a dark overcoat and a wide-brimmed soft hat. The bag contained a small sum of money, papers and other valuables, including the lady's glasses.

Officer Thomas Burns on the beat and Officers Lanigan and John Ryan in a scout car banded together to capture a young bandit and hold-up man on Silk street shortly before four o'clock last Friday morning. The youngster, sixteen years old, with a companion was seen to drive into Silk street and abandon the car at the dead end. Both boys took to their heels, and one got away, but the other was brought to police headquarters on suspicion of holding up a filling station in Somerville.

In the car were found several articles stolen from the filling station, including a small sum of money. The police also found a registration certificate which did not correspond to the plates. The plates, it developed, were stolen from another machine in Somerville. The boy was turned over to the Somerville police for prosecution.

SELECTMAN LOWE DANGEROUSLY ILL

Selectman George H. Lowe, Jr., who is a candidate for town treasurer in the coming town election, was reported ill with intestinal gripe last week. Now it appears that complications have developed and the selectman is in a dangerous condition. A day and a night nurse are in constant attendance.

NEW SETTING

The re-landscaping plans include a new setting for Dallin's statue, "The Hunter." The drawing gives an idea of how the Indian will look in his new surroundings and how the Selectmen have planned to protect the statue from vandalism.

As was promised last week, the Arlington board of selectmen, George H. Lowe, Jr., chairman, Ernest W. Davis and Harold M. Estabrook, make herewith a statement concerning the work of re-landscaping the Robbins Library and Robbins Memorial Town Hall grounds. The work was started nearly two weeks ago, but has been arrested since by inclement weather.

The statement by the selectmen, published below, together with the drawings also appearing in this issue, give a clear picture of the plans to be carried out as soon as weather permits.

LIBRARY REPORT SHOWS BIG INCREASE IN CIRCULATION

Another surprising figure is the fact that there are now 19,188 borrowers; in other words, more than half of the reading population of the town makes frequent use of the public libraries.

More than two hundred popular books in foreign languages were borrowed. These included books in Italian, French, Finnish, Portuguese, Russian, Armenian and German.

It might be added that the annual circulation has increased by 179,375, since Mrs. Spofford took charge eleven years ago. There were 2,209 new borrowers registered last year, including 716 new ones at the Dallin branch and 173 at the East. The total represents the largest number of new borrowers ever recorded in a single year.

There were nearly five thousand new books added to the library shelves during 1938, including five hundred by gift, the latter largely by will of the late Judge Parmenter.

The Dallin branch was the beneficiary of many gifts of money, books, magazines and of labor. As written in Mrs. Spofford's report, "A dictionary was donated by the Sunshine Club. The Study Club subscribed to the Etude and Nature magazines. Other magazines donated were the Christian Science Journal, Monitor and Sentinel, the Messenger of the Sacred Heart, and three years subscription to Better Homes and Gardens from the Friday Social Club.

"In September the grounds were landscaped under the direction of Mrs. Walter J. Vaughn, after having been planned by Miss Esther Wyman. The school children of the district contributed $21.89, which helped to pay for the hedge. The Garden Club gave $10.00 toward the cost of grading. A plaque in honor of Mrs. Vittoria C. Dallin, for whom the branch was named, was donated by her friend, Miss Bettina Kahnweiler of Cambridge. A stereopticon lantern was given by the Trefoil League of the Heights Baptist church. Two screens, one for decorative purposes and the other for bulletin use, were given by the Heights Study Club."

At Robbins Library, "The fifth season of Sunday readings proved a continued success. Readings were held on January 16, February 13 and March 20. In January books were reviewed by Miss Esther Bailey, Prof. Ernest Benshimol and Mrs. Robert Rice. On February 13, Rev. Laurence L. Barber talked on the then recent book, "Hidden Lincoln" by Hertz, and Allen Perry read from "Road to Xanadu" by John Livingstone Lowes and "An Adventure" by Anne Moberly and Eleanor Jouridan. Miss Barbara Sears, who was exhibiting her pictures in the gallery was the guest of honor.

"On March 20, one of the most delightful Sunday afternoons was experienced when Mrs. Edith Trowbridge Vom Baur gave personal reminiscences of her late distinguished father, John Townsend Trowbridge, the poet and author who lived in Arlington so many years. She gave a recital of his poetry that brought back to some, a vivid memory of a fellow townsman.

"Gifts for 1938 have been both generous and extremely useful. Of Miss Esther Wyman, who designed and planned the planting at the Vittoria C. Dallin Branch, special mention should be made, as well as of our trustee, Mrs. Walter J. Vaughn who gave of her time and thought so generously."

Among the books received during 1938 were those donated by the following: American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Arlington Fort-nightly Club, Arlington Woman's Club, Miss Esther Bailey, Miss Grace Hall Blashfield, Boston Life Underwriters Association, Mrs. Henry Brask, Buhl Foundation, University of Pittsburgh; Mrs. Anna C. Covell, Miss Ruth M. Dallin, Mrs. Vittoria C. Dallin, Doubleday, Doran; Mrs. Clifford Dumble, Arlington Garden Club, Junior Garden Club, First Church of Christ, Scientist, Rev. Matthew J. Flaherty, W. Gardiner Goss, Dr. Franklin P. Hawkes, Miss Phyllis Hon. Heights Study Club, Mrs. Guy E. Jones, Junior Woman's Club, William H. Lannin, Miss Jennie Lantz, H. B. MacArdle, Mrs. Stephen Merrill, National Council of American Ship-builders, Oxford University Press, Estate of Judge James Parmenter, Mrs. Amy I. Powers, Herbert Raymond, Edith Rice, the Misses Robinsons, Edith Nourse Rogers, Meyer Sakett, Sunshine Club, Miss M. Helen Teale, Mrs. Annie E. Wells, R. L. Wilbur and A. M. Hyde, Grace Stone Woodbridge.

Gifts other than books, not already mentioned include: Shrine of the Constitution, Auxiliary to the Spanish War Veterans; screen for use with lanterns, Christmas tree, Christmas wreaths and flowers through the season from the Garden Club; oil painting of Nathan Robbins at the age of fifty, Henry Parker Robbins; a curtain from Mrs. Sarah Vaughn.

The report states further, "Deep appreciation is felt for the many kindly things that have been done for the library, the gifts from clubs, from individuals, and the publicity given by our local newspapers. We need the help of all. The library along with the church and the school must preach and teach the much needed lesson of democracy."

Young People Will Again Run Service At Park Ave. Church

On January 29, the Park Avenue Congregational church will observe the second Sunday in "Youth Week."

The morning worship will be conducted by Judith Martin and Wm. Peppard, with Edith Osterlund telling the children's story. The four young people who will speak at the morning services are Castine E. Swanson, Robert Jorda, Charlotte Boyer and Donald J. MacCallum. In the evening at 7:00 o'clock, Virginia Maxwell and William Olive, Jr., will conduct the devotional service and Rev. Howard E. Pomeroy of Jamaica Plain will preach the sermon.

Will Address Chamber on Juvenile Delinquency

The regular monthly dinner and meeting of the Arlington Chamber of Commerce will be held on Tuesday evening, February 7 in Wyman's English Tavern at 6:45 p. m.

Chief Archie F. Bullock, chairman of the evening, has secured Dr. George F. Fitzgibbon, professor of psychology at Boston College as speaker. Dr. Fitzgibbon will address the gathering on "Juvenile Delinquency and Preventative Measures."

Heights Baptist Church To Hold Parents' Night

The Annual "Parents' Night", sponsored by the Bible School of the Arlington Heights Baptist church, will be held (tomorrow) Friday, at 7:45 p. m., with Walter N. MacFarlane, superintendent of the Bible School, presiding. The guest speaker will be the Rev. Edwin K. Gedney, pastor of the Advent-Christ church, Somerville, also a professor in the Gordon College of Theology and Missions. Special sacred selections will be rendered by a male quartet, also from Somerville.

This annual custom of inviting the parents and relatives of the pupils of the Bible School has become one of the outstanding social events of the church calendar. At the close of the service which will be held in the main auditorium of the church, refreshments will be served in the vestry. The following committee has been chosen on the refreshment committee—Mrs. W. N. MacFarlane, Miss Mildred Washburn, Mrs. Vesta Balsor, Mrs. Alan MacIver and Seymour J. Steeves.)

Canadian C. S. B. Will Lecture in Cambridge

Under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Cambridge, a lecture free to the public will be given by Gavin W. Allan, C. S. B., of Toronto, Canada, Friday evening, February 3, at 8 p. m., in the church edifice, Massachusetts avenue and Waterhouse street. Mr. Allan, who is a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, will take for his subject, "Christian Science: The Science of Government."

Send It In

The work of the Arlington Health Committee in the fight to stamp out the dreaded tuberculosis, is planned months in advance.

It is necessary therefore, that the committee know the amount of funds that will be available for this work.

As more than one thousand families to whom Christmas Seals were mailed last November have not yet responded to the appeal, it is hoped that those who wish to contribute their financial support to this great work, will send in their Seal money during the remaining days of January, so that the committee can plan its yearly budget.

Orthodox Congregational Holds Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Orthodox Congregational church was held in the vestry of the church Friday evening, January 20.

After a delicious supper, Earl A. Lewis, moderator, took the chair and reports of church organizations were received. The result of the election was as follows: Deacons for four years, Henry C. Guernsey and Ernest M. Steele; deaconesses for two years, Miss Grace Parker and Mrs. Stanley E. Cook; clerk, Albert W. Wunderlich; treasurer, Everett G. Cobb; assistant treasurer and collector, Mrs. Frank W. Wunderlich; auditor, Eben F. Dewing; moderator, Earl S. Lewis; historian, Mrs. George B. C. Rugg; superintendent of church school, Miss Sarah R. Kendall; church committee for three years, Frank E. Carlson; missionary committee, Mrs. Laurence L. Barber, Mrs. Anna H. Brown and Mrs. Edward N. Lacey; prudential committee for three years, Mrs. W. E. Luxford; music committee, Mrs. Ezekiel Pratt, Carl H. Carroll and Mrs. Roscoe E. Patten; religious education committee, Elmer Barber, Mrs. Henry C. Guernsey, Miss Dorothea Johnson, Miss Sarah Kendall, Charles MacMillan, Mrs. Frank B. Savage, Bernard G. Teel, Miss Charlotte Woods, Mrs. Alvin Woodward and Charles W. Skinner; hospitality committee, W. Dale Barker, Walter T. Chamberlain, Howard S. Houghton, Ralph B. Lancaster, Joseph M. Roche, Vincent Wanton, Richard Howe, Prescott Dickey, Albert H. Perkins and Laurence L. Barber, Jr.

Monday evening, January 30, pupils of the Laura A. Hallisey Dance Studios will compete in an "Amateur Night" contest under the auspices of St. James Branch, No. 17, M. C. W. G., at St. James' Hall, Appleton street, Arlington Heights. Well-known Norma Galliani, who tap dancing on tip-toes with a jump rope has won considerable recognition all over Arlington, will appear. Master Raymond Doyle, 5-year-old Fred Astaire, will perform in his miniature white satin dress-suit in an Irish breakdown. Dorothy Clapp, song-and-dance girl, will offer "Pocket Full of Dreams." Marie Welch, cabaret lady, gives a modern version of swing, truckin', shag and Susie-Q. Miss Hallisey will assist her pupils at the piano.

We have 25 or more savings bank accounts for Trust Funds, besides safe deposit boxes, and about 30 other savings bank and commercial accounts; 57 bank accounts in all. Coupons, notes and bonds must be deposited promptly in order to get all the interest possible. In regard to one account of about $40,000, carried in the general Treasury, but which cannot be used except by vote of the Town Meeting, I put that fund into savings banks and certificates of deposit and have obtained for the Town thereby some $700 per year interest. No other Treasurer has done this as far as I can learn.

It is the sole responsibility of the Treasurer as to where he shall deposit the general funds of the Town.

The handling of Tax Titles constitutes about half the duties of the Treasurer.

Tax Titles are lots sold or taken by the Town each Fall on which the taxes for the previous year have not been paid. They are not taxes, neither are they titles, but simply liens on the properties. The Collector makes out a deed for each lien, has it recorded at the Registry of Deeds, and hands the deeds to the Treasurer. Taxes of subsequent years with interest are added to each tax title without further sale. We have about 300 tax titles on our books.

After two years the Treasurer must foreclose and take the property for the Town if the back taxes and costs are still unpaid. A partial payment, however, may be made consisting of at least one-quarter of the tax for which the property was taken, plus all costs and interest to date of payment, and this extends the time of redemption one year but no more.

Mr. Long has said "Tax Titles to some Treasurers are as vague as the writings of Herodotus."

I handle all our Tax Titles, making all the foreclosures through the Land Court and make all our own release deeds and other instruments. A neighboring Town, the size of Arlington, paid out $600 last year for similar work.

So it is evident from the above that there are many important duties which devolve upon the Treasurer.

Yours sincerely,
CHARLES A. HARDY,
Town Treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitehouse Celebrate Twenty-Fifth

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Whitehouse celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary at their home, 48 Cleveland street, last Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitehouse were married in Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, January 20, 1914, by the Rev. Mr. Whitcomb of the Baptist church.

They have two children—Howard, who is connected with an insurance company in Boston, and June, who is attending Simmons college.

Mrs. Whitehouse was presented a beautiful bouquet of flowers from her son, and a handsome silver and glass tray from her daughter. There were also many other gifts from relatives and friends, from Medford, Arlington, Lawrence and Nova Scotia. They have been residents of this town for twenty years and are still active members of the Baptist church.

Girl Scout camps are proving exceedingly popular and beneficial to the hundreds of girls that they are able to serve at a cost to the parent of only about one-fifth of what the ordinary private camp charges. The group of women interested in securing a summer camp for the Girl Scouts and working hard for the success of the concert are Mrs. Clifford Gleason, commissioner; Mrs. Harold Wilson, Leaders' association; Mrs. Harold Yeames, Mrs. Albert Wunderly and all other members of the Council.

Miriam Hendrick Cahalin, former member of the Council and member of one of the first Girl Scout troops established in Arlington, is contributing to the success of the afternoon by presenting several readings. Robert Rutledge will also assist by rendering baritone solos.

Tickets for the concert may be procured from Girl Scout headquarters and members of the Bugle and Drum Corps, as well as from the above mentioned women.

WELLESLEY PLAYERS

K. O. WITH "IS ZAT SO"

did Albert Woll in the role of the fighter's manager, as he played it last Friday night. On the opening night Mr. Woll was superb, and if he was inclined to overplay a bit the next night, the fault was with the audience, which became practically maudlin with laughter before the show was over.

Down and Out

Down-and-out fighter "Chick" Cowan and his manager, "Hap" Hurley, are picked up by wealthy inebriated C. Clinton Blackburn and taken into his home to help him get into shape. Acting very ineptly as butler and footman, they prove very much more adept at stealing the affections of the household's nurse and secretary. They not only straighten out young Mr. Blackburn physically, but they save him from financial ruin by his crooked brother-in-law, clear his dead brother's name, and incidentally, land the lightweight championship of the world, winning a pot of money for everybody.

In the meantime, of course, there are complications. Blackburn thinks "Chick" has double-crossed him when he allows himself to be knocked out in a friendly go with Mr. Hobart's fighting chauffeur and chucks his new-found friends out of the house. But naturally everything comes out all right in the end.

The "friendly go," incidentally, was staged right on the stage in full view of the audience and was one of the high points in the show. Anyone who had seen many professional boxing matches could see instantly that the boys were not real fighters, but they put over some hefty wallop with telling effect, none the less, and the audience got a tremendous kick out of it.

Perfect Foil

C. Elmer Stimets as the likable lightweight proved to be the perfect foil for his manager's more ponderous humor. He played his inarticulate part with restraint and conviction, and that bit at the end of the second act where he tried to attract his manager's attention by pretending to drink and smoke was a very nice piece of acting.

Harold P. Trefethen was very good as the young millionaire, and as his sister, Miss Louise Stewart was altogether delightful. She looked especially luscious in the black and white lounging affair.

All the other players did very creditable work, with special mention going to James E. Norcross for his bit as the fighting chauffeur. After being knocked down in (we blush to say it) clouds of dust several times, he was the groggy fighter to perfection.

When this commentator went back stage to congratulate Mr. Woll on his performance, the actor proved to be refreshingly modest. He said, "Jimmy Gleason just wrote a good part for himself, that's all."

Of course the snappy comeback to that would be, "Is Zat So."

No Matter How Small

Arlington's president, Arthur W. Sampson, greeted the audience and adroitly introduced President Arthur Hayden of the Wellesley Players. Mr. Hayden not only appeared before the curtain for those few words, but he was in the play's mob scene. Remembering that he also appeared in a similar scene of "The Bad Man" which the Wellesley group brought here two years ago, it becomes apparent that Mr. Hayden is another president who makes a practice of lending a hand where he is needed, no matter how small the role.

The Wellesley production committee was as follows: Minot J. Ross and Philip Carey, stage; Eleanor Lee, properties; Florence E. Johnson, costumes; Allen Campbell, prompting; Eileen Chapman, Ernestine Ryan, Lucille Harris and Edgar Rice, make-up.

They were assisted by Arlington's stage manager, William A. Carr, and by Mrs. Gladys LeBlanc, Mrs. Raphael Des Marais, Roberta Bailey, Flora Hale and Helen Gage, who dressed the set.

The furniture in the second act was by courtesy of C. H. Black & Co., of Malden.

WOMAN'S CLUB

Mrs. Wyman introduced Marion Herick Haynes, who delighted her audience not only with her beautiful contralto voice, her choice of simple, effective songs (which the gentlemen always like) but by her charming appearance and dignified manner of delivery. Although her voice may have lacked something of human warmth, that criticism would be more than offset by her depth and clarity of her tones, her perfect diction and her beautiful phrasing, which was both artistic and impressive. She used her voice as an instrumental artist would play upon his cello.

Miss Barbara Hanson, president of the Junior Woman's Club, was next introduced by Mrs. Wyman.

"FAUST" WILL PLAY TO BIG AUDIENCE HERE TOMORROW

various parts of the opera. The principal parts of "Faust" will be sung by artists who have won applause in all the leading music centers of the State. The title role will be sung by Bruce Norman; Mephistopheles, Henry Kelly; Valentine, Martin Albright; Wagner, Louis Pasco; Margarita, Joan Ruth; Siebel, Frances Perry; Martha, Edna Holmes.

BRUCE NORMAN, WHO APPEARS IN THE OPERA "FAUST"

The Legion Band, in sponsoring an operatic performance rather than some other form of entertainment, had in mind the reputation which Arlington bears as a cultural center and the home of a high type of citizen. That the judgment of the Band Committee is vindicated is evident in the excellent advance sale of tickets for the presentation and the general enthusiasm of music lovers in this section who have already expressed their eagerness to attend. A capacity audience is expected to be present in the auditorium at 8 o'clock to hear the opening bars of this opera which has maintained a steady popularity through the years since it came from the pen of Gounod.

A notable array of talent will be supplied from the Federal Music ranks of vocalists to interpret the

Park Ave. Church Now Trying Early Service Experiment

For all Protestant people in Arlington who desire an early morning service, such an opportunity is offered by the Congregational church at the Heights Sunday morning. Excepting for the choir, this morning worship is exactly the same as the 10:45 service including the same sermon. This experiment has been in progress since October first. Of course the services are open to all.

This early service has many advantages. Parents with small babies may thus attend church without the cost of hiring a girl for the morning. One comes to the early service while the other stays home, then at the second service the process is reversed. For men who work at night, here is an opportunity to worship before resting for the day. For families with children in grades 1-3, the church school provides instruction after the children's sermon, so that parents may attend church while the children are in school. (Similarly for the pre-school children, instruction is provided during the second service.) For families planning a trip for the day, here is a chance to attend church at 9:00 o'clock and be on their way by 10:15.

A cordial invitation is given to all who have no church home of their own to come and worship with us. Next Sunday morning at both services the young people will conduct the service as a part of the Third Annual Youth Week.

Sons of Italy Celebrate Fourteenth Institution

The fourteenth annual institution of Arlington Lodge, 3349, Order of Sons of Italy in America, was celebrated with a large gathering for a dinner and dance at the Middlesex Sportsman's Association clubhouse on January 18.

The committee of which Frank LoPresti was chairman, had arranged an elaborate program, including prominent speakers and provided an excellent menu and a fine orchestra which every one of the many guests thoroughly enjoyed.

The invited guests included Chairman Norcross Stratton of the Arlington school committee and Mrs. Stratton; Selectman Ernest W. Davis (the chairman of the board, George H. Lowe, Jr., was ill and unable to attend); Father McCann of St. Agnes church, who offered the invocation; Chief Archie F. Bullock of the Arlington police department and Mrs. Bullock; Chief Daniel B. Tierney of the Arlington fire department and Mrs. Tierney; Mr. and Mrs. Michael Fredo, Mr. Fredo being grand venerable of the order and member of the Arlington school committee; Judge and Mrs. Felix Forte; Miss Amelia D'Orazio, venerable of the ladies' lodge.

Venerable Joseph Dente acted as toastmaster and introduced the speakers and entertainers to the assembly, which numbered more than two hundred. The music was furnished by the Allison sisters and their Gypsy ensemble and entertainment by two of Miss Laura Halisey's pupils, Rudolph Tucci and Lorraine Martin.

Serving with Mr. LoPresti on the committee were Leonard Marasco, treasurer; John J. Livotto, secretary; Joseph Dente, ex-officio; Fred Lucarelli, Giacomo Polito and Michael Terrenzio.

There was a large attendance last evening of Arlington people at the Silver Jubilee celebration of the Massachusetts Order of Sons of Italy, held at the Boston Garden. Guy Lombardo was featured as the principal entertainment of the evening.

The evening service at First M. E. church on Sunday is to be entirely in charge of the Harling Men's Class. Howard Selby of Newton, one of the outstanding Methodist laymen, has been procured as the speaker. Music will be furnished by a men's chorus.

A. H. S. Five Loses Heartbreaker to Waltham, 24 to 20

The Waltham High basketball team nosed out a fighting Arlington outfit, 24-20, last Tuesday afternoon at the Waltham High School. Both teams should have scored more frequently, but we can not say the victors had any edge in the action. This was really a heart-breaker to lose, because a win meant the leadership of the Suburban loop for Coach Lowder's boys.

Phil Caminiti, the football star, was chiefly responsible for the Arlington downfall. He popped in six baskets from his guard position, all of which were shot from outside the foul line. The local forwards had an advantage over the Watch City front line but the Red and Gray guards were unable to muster a single point throughout the afternoon.

This defeat was all the more difficult to take because the tying points for the losing five were taken away on an official ruling just one minute before the contest was over. Referee Al Kawal had touched the ball and said play when the scorer's horn blew for a Waltham substitution. This was an error on the bookkeeper, but Kawal should have continued action without noticing it. Instead he blew his whistle and nullified the baskets which Glennon had scored on a pass out from Mernick. The local board of strategy did its best to get the two points which would have knotted the count at 22 all, but had no luck.

The winners jumped into an early lead and stood on the large end of an 8-3 total after the first eight minutes. Neither outfit could break the ice for about two minutes, until Billy Whitney dropped a foul shot. Waltham had sunk four baskets before Arlington could retaliate. Furbush shot two of them with Caminiti and Lane getting one apiece. The other two-pointer was hung up by George Mernick.

Both clubs added six points to their counts during the second period. The order of baskets was Mernick, Lane, Cotter, Caminiti, Whitney and Caminiti. The game was much more evenly fought and the Arlington five appeared to be getting acquainted with the enemy floor. The tabulation after the half was over was Waltham 14, Arlington 9.

Coach Lowder's charges picked up a point on the Watch men during the third session. On two of three occasions the locals should have tallied, but their attempts just would not drop. Collura and Furbush looked immense on the defensive for the victors, retrieving the ball off the backboard and relieving the pressure. The Arlington lads couldn't score for about three minutes. Meanwhile Caminiti had looped in two longshots, giving his team a nine-point advantage. Bill Whitney sank a free throw and a basket and Mernick dropped one from underneath the hoop to make the count read 18-14 going into the final period.

George Mernick shortened this lead by swishing one of his two foul tosses. Furbush dropped an almost impossible shot and dimmed the local hopes. However, Billy Whitney added a point from the foul line and Glennon made a beautiful basket, leaving only two points separating the quintets. This is where the Glennon basket was scratched off the books. Goguen tallied on a nice play to make the difference four counts. Whitney grabbed the ball out of a scramble and scored for the Arlington representatives. With about a minute and five seconds to play, Caminiti sank another long one and Waltham really went on the defensive. Lowder's men charged frantically around the hoop but were unable to break through the Red and Blue warriors.

We figure that the winner of the league crown will take at least three defeats, so Arlington is still a big factor in the race. Bill Whitney headed the local scorers with nine points, while Caminiti with six baskets was the high scorer of the afternoon.

The Arlington seconds came back from their defeat at the hands of Rindge and won with ten points to spare. The score was 23-13. The local scrubs made by far their most impressive showing of the present season.

FASHION NOTES

If you are heading for the south don't forget to take along a "spare" lipstick. The plummy cyclamen lipstick that you have been using this winter with your fuchsia tones, as well as with blacks and blues will not look well when you have acquired a bit of a tan. Orange tones, and clear reds will do much more for you under the Southern sun.

For you who are lucky enough to be preparing for a trip to the sunny south, or those of you who will be spending your time aboard some luxurious cruiser, here are a few notes on colors for sports clothes.

Watch for:
Three colors in strange, new combinations. Much purple, and raspberry tones into the pinks (see above). Deep Indian madras colors.
Yellow important. Also lime greens, soft Kelly greens, coral, deep copper (like earthenware), and natural aqua, navy, powder—in fact all shades of blue.

— Edith Hine.

Club Activities

WOMAN'S CLUB

The next regular meeting of the Arlington Woman's Club will be held on Thursday, February 2, at 2
p. m., at Robbins Memorial Town Hall.

The program for the afternoon will be in charge of the drama committee, Mrs. Curtis K. Pinkham, chairman, who will present Adele Hoes Lee in an informal talk on the "Current Theatre," and Elford Caughey, harpist, who is a member of the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Miss Lee was a teacher for a number of years at the Leland Powers School of the Theatre in Boston, and now has a school of her own called the Bishop-Lee School on Beacon Hill in Boston. During the summer months she opens her summer theatre at Malden Bridge, N. Y., where she presents the most popular plays of the season with headline personalities of the stage and screen. She feels that the public has become definitely theatre-minded, so that her talks are exceptionally appealing at this time.

She discusses the current plays, adhering closely to the viewpoint of the playgoer, and afterwards acts out the climactic scenes from the plays under discussion. A lifetime of experience with all things pertaining to the stage and her ability to depict dramatic situations well qualifies her to present these talks on the current theatre.

VARIA STUDY CLUB

"P. E. P." standing for political, economic and psychological, are the three causes of war, stated Rev.
Clifford O. Simpson when he addressed the Varia Study club at its meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Richard Stimpson of Linden street. Continuing his theme, Rev. Simpson showed how arbitration could be used as one way to iron out the causes of war and attain peace.

The meeting opened with Mrs.
William F. Homer, president, in the chair. Reports were read. Delicious refreshments were served by the hospitality committee.

KAPPA PHI DELTA

The members of Kappa Phi Delta of the Orthodox Congregational church invite their high school friends to attend their meeting Sunday evening at 6 p. m. Ernest W.
Steele will tell of his travels in Central Europe and show pictures of his adventures in Europe itself and also crossing the Atlantic in the Hindenburg during a very severe storm.

ST. JAMES BRANCH

St. James Branch, No. 17, Massachusetts Catholic Woman's Guild, will sponsor an amateur night Monday evening, January 30th, in St.
James' Hall at 8 p. m.

Many local performers have already entered the contest and prizes will be awarded the winners. Admission fee is very reasonable for adults and children's tickets may be secured from guild members at a very nominal price.

Miss Elizabeth Gallagher is chairman of the program, assisted by Mrs. Margaret Tierney, Mrs.
Bridget Perry, Miss Catherine Mc-Caffrey, Miss Winifred King, and Mrs. Kathleen M. Cunneen, regent.

The branch is also completing plans for a charity whist and bridge to take place early in the month of February, with Mrs. Nora O'Donnell in charge.

The next business meeting will take place on Tuesday evening,
February 7th in the church vestry.

ST. MALACHI COURT

St. Malachi Court, No. 8, Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters, will meet this (Thursday) evening in A. O. H. hall Miss Mary E. McCarthy, deputy high chief ranger, will speak. Quarterly financial statements will be read at this meeting. Mrs. Kathleen M.
Cunneen, chief ranger, will preside.

SUNSHINE CLUB

The Sunshine Club will hold its February meetings on the 3rd and 15th. On the 3rd the club will meet at the home of Mrs. G. N. Stevens, 18 Daniels street with Mrs. C. Bates as assisting hostess. On the 15th the meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. O. Morse of Mt.
Vernon street, with Mrs. W. E.
Whilton as assisting hostess.

A. O. H. AUXILIARY

Division 4, Ladies Auxiliary to the Ancient Order of Hibernians, will conduct a public Whist and Bridge party next Wednesday evening, February 1, in A. O. H. Hall.
Many valuable prizes have been secured for this affair which promises to be very successful.

Mrs. Margaret Callahan, chair-lady of entertainment in the Division, is in charge of the party, assisted by a large committee of officers and members. A short business meeting will take place in the outer hall previous to the party.

Tentative plans will be discussed for a St. Patrick's party in March, and officers will report on the County Board meeting held in Watertown, January 8th. Miss Mary Hurley, county president, is expected to be present at the business session, at which Mrs. B. O'Brien will preside.

TOWN EMPLOYEES

The regular monthly meeting of the Arlington Town Employees Association was held in the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall, Tuesday evening. Communications from the Executive meeting of the Federation of State, City and Town Employees held at the Hotel Bancroft, Worcester, were read, as were also a number of House and Senate bills that are to be presented to the legislature at this session.

On Sunday next a meeting of the committee on by-laws revision of the federation will be held at the Hotel Bradford, Boston. John M.
Hurley, secretary of the Arlington Town Employees Association, and candidate for the Board of Public Works in the coming March election, is a member of this committee.

TENT 76

The members of Fannie T. Hazen Tent 76, held their annual installation on Wednesday evening at V. F.
W. hall. Mrs. Helen A. Phinney, the "Mother" of the tent, was the installing officer, assisted by Mrs.
Dorothy Putnam of Hyde Park, who acted as guide.

The following officers were installed: Miss Maude Hunzelman, president; Mrs. Alice Fitzgerald, senior vice president; Miss Annie Gibbons, junior vice president; Mrs.
Annie Holbrook, chaplain; Mrs.
Clara O. Powers, treasurer; Mrs.
Mary Smith, secretary; Mrs. May B.
Robbins, press correspondent; Mrs.
Addie Smith, patriotic instructor;
Mrs. Lennie Chapman, Mrs. Celia
Johnson and Mrs. Mary Wardell, council members; Mrs. Celia Johnson, musician; Miss Florence Solomon, guide; Mrs. Hattie Potter, guard; Mrs. Bertha Crandall, assistant guard; Miss Winifred Smith, Mrs. Mary Kuipers, Mrs. Dorothy O'Neill and Mrs. Mary Wardell, color bearers. The members then formed in their floral march, each one presenting Mother Phinney with a red rose.

The guest of honor, Massachusetts Department Commander Scott dard of the G. A. R., brought the greetings of his department with a pleasing address to the Daughters.
Miss Isabel Prescott, department senior vice president of the D. U.
V., greeted the members with a happy little greeting, which was followed by greetings from Commander W. Kennedy Mason of the Spanish War Veterans; Miss Ellen Swan, president of the Auxiliary of the Spanish War Veterans; Mrs.
Estabrook of the Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars; Mrs. Josephine Frazier, president of Franciscan Guild Women's Relief Corps, and Mrs. Josephine Williamson.

Fannie T. Hazen Tent 76 will hold a whist party on March 1st at 2 p. m., at V. F. W. Hall, 352
Massachusetts avenue.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB

The Junior Woman's Club met on Wednesday, January 23. Mrs.
Lucinda F. Spofford as speaker of the evening reviewed several of the latest books. She included most of the better books of 1938 and laid special emphasis on the outstanding biographies.

POST NO. 39 NEWS

Following a largely attended meeting last Tuesday night, Supervisor Daniel Haley of the Burke National Detective Agency, gave an interesting talk on communism as it exists in this country.

S. V. C. Charlie Tynan reports 262 paid-up members to date, exceeding previous records.

Commander Alvin Lynch will appoint a committee on unemployment.

S. V. C. Andrew A. Magnus has outlined a schedule of entertainment for each meeting until late spring.

A Get-together banquet is planned for April 18th.

The next meeting will be held on February 14th.

HEIGHTS STUDY CLUB

The Arlington Heights Study Club met Tuesday afternoon, January 24, at the home of Mrs. F. Alfred Patterson. Interesting papers were read, on "Java, Switzerland of the Pacific," by Mrs. John P. Hasson, and "Bali, the Lost Paradise," by Mrs. George L. Parker. Miss Greta Milet, a talented young musician, played several selections on her Hawaiian guitar.

Members of the club are anticipating a pleasant afternoon on January 31, when they will meet at the parish house at 1 o'clock, for a scholarship and guest party. Auld Lang Syne Supper will be served.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The next regular meeting of the Arlington Historical Society will be held in the Unitarian vestry, Tuesday evening, January 31, at 8 p. m.
Hon. Richard B. Coolidge of Medford will speak on "The Brooks Estate."

Open Meeting

The Arlington Citizens Committee, the organization whose stamp of approval is much desired by aspirants to local political office, will hold its first open meeting of the season Monday evening at eight o'clock in V. F. W. Hall.

Double Shower

At the home of Miss Jane Devlin of Brighton yesterday, a double surprise shower was given to Miss Margaret Lange of Cambridge and Miss Adela Lord of this town, former class-mates in the Cambridge Hospital School of Nursing.

The dining room was colorfully decorated in blue and white and delightful refreshments were served by Mrs. Devlin and her daughter, Jane.

Miss Lange and Miss Lord received beautiful and useful gifts and each was presented with an electric mantle clock by members of her class.

Other Arlington young women in attendance were the Misses Alice Kirkis and Marjorie Rice.

On Sunday, Miss Lange will become the bride of Edward Donovan of Rawson road, this town, and early in February, Miss Lord will be the bride of A. Frederick Andrews of Watertown.

Girl Scout Notes

A uniform exchange was held at the Girl Scout Headquarters on Saturday, January 21st. Some interesting transactions were made, the senior scouts were able to dispose of their former uniforms, and the younger scouts were very pleased to step into the outfits of their older Scout sisters. There are several large uniforms—sizes 14-16, and one small 10-12, at the office, which is open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., every day but Saturday.

A meeting of the Organization Committee—a new name for the former Training and Personnel Committee—was held at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Paul Power, 33 Linden st., Monday evening, January 23rd. The committee aims to establish more troops, with fewer girls, and more leaders, so that the organization may serve all the girls in the community who desire to be Girl Scouts. The other members of the committee are, Mrs. Irving Poole, Mrs. Thomas Semonian, and Miss Ruberta Bailey. Mrs. Clifford Gleason, commissioner, and Miss Dorothy Thompson, local director, were present as ex-officio members.

The regular meeting of the Girl Scout Council will be held on Wednesday, February 1st, at the home of Mrs. James W. Kidder, 215 Crosby street. This meeting promises to be very important, as there are many business details to be discussed.

Meeting Change

The meeting with Miss Tobitt on Friday evening, January 27th, will be held at the old gymnasium of the high school at 7:30, instead of the Junior High East as formerly planned.

Mrs. Taylor Gives 4th in Current Events Series

Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor gave the fourth in a series of current events lectures under the auspices of the Alliance of the Unitarian Women in the church vestry Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Taylor approved the rearmament program, saying, "If we had plenty of powder, kept dry, we might never have to use it." She spoke of the President's disappointment at the outcome of Lima's Conference. He found Germany and Italy already deeply entrenched in South America.

Mrs. Taylor drew a disheartening picture of all the foreign countries in their game of bluff, the playing of one nation against another; of Hitler's aims in his march of power. She outlined conditions in Germany and said, "Hitler's game is all set but an inner uprising may prevent the realization of his dream."

Mrs. Taylor deplored the successful march of Franco in Spain and said that we were on the eve of a second Munich.

LOOKING WITHOUT SEEING

We publish this picture not simply because it is by Barbara Sears, an Arlington artist who is going to exhibit in the Boston City Club next month, but rather to try and get across some of our own amazement which could not possibly be expressed in words.

At first glance this picture might possibly be mistaken for a photograph, but a second should indicate to anyone that it has a certain warmth and depth that no single lense has yet been able to produce. It is, of course, a reproduction from an oil painting, a sizable painting at that.

Now painting is one of the many things that we know absolutely nothing about. When we saw the original of the above, it looked like a nice enough picture, to be sure, but of course, it was not real. No one ever really saw those colors in a simple country landscape, not all those, anyway. And did not the picture contain at least one glaring error? Why her deep shadows, in some cases, were lighter than some of the highlights. And what were those careless daubs on the roof? As for the hill in the background, why, it was pure imagination.

To say that we are absolutely dumfounded at the reproduction is not the slightest exaggeration. With the picture reduced to terms that we can understand at a glance, it is easy to see how far from the truth was our untutored judgment. Those bright colors blend into something infinitely more real than the finest photograph we ever saw. The careless daubs on the roof prove to be characteristic patches in the shingling, and the hill behind is miraculously covered with perfect little trees. We also find that we know nothing about color values, or at least not as much as we thought. Those deep shadows we thought much too light—darned if they don't come out black as your hat.

Never have we had it brought home so forcibly that the artist really does see things to which we ordinary fellows are blind. Apparently most of us go through life looking at things without really seeing them at all.

NO SUBSTITUTE

Those who subscribe to the doctrine that a government can "spend its way into prosperity," are due for a rude awakening, as a study recently published by the National Bureau of Economic Research indicates.

According to this study, tremendous drops have taken place in the production of durable goods and in privately financed construction. Between 1919 and 1929, the money spent for these purposes averaged about $19,000,000,000 annually. In recent years, the average has dropped to $6,500,000,000.

In those years, government spending has been at record levels—levels so high that the bulk of disinterested economists freely forecast ruin for the country if they are long maintained. Yet, in spite of that, pump-priming by the federal government—which means money going into construction and durable goods industries—has averaged but $2,620,000,000 a year.

As the Morning Oregonian observes, "The incapacity of government to overcome the decline in private investment in durable goods is at once apparent." Furthermore, the very weight of government spending is in itself a tremendous barrier to a resumption of private spending on any substantial scale. Government pump-priming means continually rising taxes, plus a continually rising debt—and the result is to frighten the investor, dishearten industry, which finds its profits diminishing even when it manages to hold its volume of sales to good levels, and drive money into hiding in tax-exempt government securities.

No one argues that this so-called "emergency" spending by the government can now be terminated at once. But all the valid economic evidence at hand indicates that the salvation of the country depends on a program to gradually reduce this terrific spending—and to encourage, through sound tax policies, a resumption of private spending in the durable goods field. There is no substitute for private capital—even as there is no substitute for private initiative and energy in making the wheels go 'round.

"We have at Washington today the most costly, the most wasteful, and the most bureaucratic form of government this republic has ever known." In the fiscal year of 1939 the expenditures of all governments in America will be more than $20,000,000,000, or almost one-third of the total gross income of the nation."—Senator Byrd.

MOULDED BY LOVE

By EDITH WYMAN

Are we not fashioned by the ones we love?
Our mothers first, then playmates, or the Heroes of our fairy tales; a well-loved teacher,
And the friends we find along the way.

We are a combination of the past
And present; shadow selves of those who've gone
Before remain with us, and every day
Each contact constantly enriches life.

We cherish deeply thoughts of those we love;
Our souls are moulded by their slightest wish.
May we reflect the good we find in others,
And in our turn give happiness to them.

WOODCUTS

Living the life of Reilly at Tampa, Florida, retired Arlington police officer F. Joseph Cahalin sends us a beautiful pictorial calendar this week, just to arouse jealousy. The sun shines on both sides of the street down there, he says, and adds,

"The latter part of the month they are having a De-Sota Fair, which takes in all the southern states. The U. S. government gave them $100,000, built a wonderful building and spent money here like drunken sailors. More taxes for us up north! No one pays taxes down here."

Remember that little story we wrote in this column last week about Selectman Ernest W. Davis and his screwdriver? Well, we neglected to say that incident occurred twenty years ago, not that the time makes much difference. It was a good story, anyway.

Mr. Davis was to read a paper at an engineer's dinner in Boston. The preceding speakers had trouble making their papers stay on a wobbly stand, but when Mr. Davis got up to speak he first took a jack-knife from his tuxedo, drove the offending screw into doing its work and sailed through his paper with no trouble at all. And for his resourcefulness, the youthful engineer got a substantial raise in pay. That was all very well twenty years ago, but what must a fellow do to get a raise these days?

We believe that the Woman's Club made one of the most fortunate choices in years when Rev. Cornelius Greenway was selected as the speaker for the annual guest night. This commentator can not remember when he has enjoyed a speaker more. Not only was Mr. Greenway's subject matter intensely interesting, but his comments were masterpieces in satire. He had a way of delivering outrageous insults without giving offense to anyone, except that Hitler and Mussolini might have been a bit put out, if they had been present. And of course, this writer almost got up and left in a huff when he talked about misplaced eyebrows.

We were amazed at the value of autographs and long-hand letters from exclusive people. A great laugh went up when the speaker was asked from the floor whether or not he had succeeded in obtaining President Roosevelt's autograph, but the laugh turned to a gasp of surprise when the speaker said that although a mere autograph could be obtained from the president with the greatest of ease, a letter on White House stationery, written in long hand and signed by Franklin D. Roosevelt, was one of the rarest of collectors' items. Even today such a letter would be worth more than four hundred dollars. "And I have not one, but several," the speaker remarked.

On the platform Mr. Greenway seemed a bit reluctant to state what his collection was worth in cold cash, but after the lecture he told us in confidence that including his first editions the total value would go well into six figures. You see, even a minister, and a very young one at that, can get rich, if he's smart enough.

If the Friends of the Drama don't go crazy during the next two months, they are better balanced people than we thought. The annual bridge comes tomorrow (Friday) night. The big theatrical ball is scheduled for the town hall on February 10. And beginning next week there will be three plays in rehearsal at the same time. Right now Myl Trempl is whipping Gladys Black Wilcox's play, "Mother's A Queen," into shape for production the middle of next month, and "To My Husband" is being rehearsed for the Woman's Club. Next week "The Outsider" breaks in for production in March.

Sixty-Five Years Ago This Week

Last Saturday Master Roland Hobbs and his sister were taking a sleigh ride, when their horse took the bit in his teeth and bolted. The girl became frightened and in spite of her brother's protests, jumped out to be painfully injured. Roland held on, however, and finally stopped him by running into an open barn. His coolness was warmly commended by those who witnessed it.

On Monday about the hour of noon, a pair of formidable canines got into a dispute, or rather, were urged into a dispute on Lowell street. After waging war on each other for some time, the owners of the dogs appeared on the scene and each began to kick the other's dog and then to kick each other. The brawny son of one of the owners jumped into the fray and tried to separate all four combatants, but had to desist when one of the dogs, probably his own, took a good-sized chunk out of his leg. Then the whole crowd jumped in, and after a good deal of slashing around with bed rails, fists and other missiles, the fighters were all separated before actual murder was done.

Due to the icy condition of our streets, the several local blacksmiths have been doing a thriving business this week, "sharpening" the shoes of driving horses.

Electric lights have been put in on Bartlett avenue. They were used for the first time Friday night.

The alarm of fire last Wednesday night was for the burning of an old barn on the John Davis estate near the foot of Arlington Heights. The building was of little value except to Mr. Davis, who used it as a shop for the manufacture of police bills.

The following officers were elected at the annual meeting of the Orthodox Congregational parish:—Cassius M. Hall, clerk; A. Winslow Trow, treasurer; George H. Rugg, auditor; Walter Crosby, John I.

Peatfield and Albert Gooding, parish committee; Samuel A. Fowle, Wm. F. Sprague and Walter L. Frost, music committee.

Another prominent business man and public servant, ends his life work. Mr. Jesse Bacon, master mason, was representative from this district and selectman in 1872, the year when there were five on the board. It may be said of him, he positively did not know how to do a poor job.

One of Judge Hardy's horses, in charge of a driver, got out of hand Thursday morning and dashed through the plate glass window at Geo. H. Rice's shoe store. A painter was at work in the window at the time, but his presence of mind and agility doubtless saved him from injury.

The fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George I. Doe occurred on January 21 and was celebrated by the couple in their handsome mansion at 44 Jason street.

Mrs. Doe was in helicopter charmer and wore diamonds.

William O. Partridge, Jr., and his Clover Comedy Club presented "The Patriot" on Wednesday in Robbins Memorial Town Hall. Mr. Partridge was most impressive in the leading role, and showed even more than usual of his dramatic ability.

Coch Osgood's High School hockey team scored two easy victories this week, one over Winchester and the second in the stadium against the Harvard second team, 4 to 2. Osgood used no less than fifteen players against Harvard, including four different goal-tenders. Lindberg, one of the Arlington players, was unlucky enough to accidentally score the second Harvard goal.

THE ARLINGTON DOLLAR SHOULD BE SPENT HERE

Dedicated to
THE TOWN OF ARLINGTON and
THE ARLINGTON ADVOCATE

Why should this dollar cross the Charles And get away in the traffic snarl?
What is the magnet which seems to draw An ARLINGTON DOLLAR to Boston's paw?
Boston Low Prices and typographical thrills Shouldn't get one of ARLINGTON's bills!
ARLINGTON, smiling 'neath sunny skies, Abounds with outstanding merchandise! Prices are lower every time!
Think it over and save your dime!
ARLINGTON moves forward every day!
Clings to a standard Civic Pride!
Forty thousand are here to stay And in contentment to abide!
What is lovelier than ROBINS HALL Or the Indian guarding the limped pool?
Where the chorals of singing birds Blend with the voices of the school!
And Thursday is a day that's great!
A Paper appears in royal state!— Welcome ARLINGTON ADVOCATE!
Whose super-prestige has been won By loyal Faith in ARLINGTON!

The stores of ARLINGTON are linked as one From early dawn to setting sun!
How they reveal their saving power! Bargains flashing every hour!
In this alliance we clearly see ARLINGTON ASSOCIATES and unity!
The parade of stores is inviting, great!
Led by the ARLINGTON ADVOCATE!
Read the facts it's ads are telling! Irresistible and compelling!
The ARLINGTON DOLLAR is staying here!
It won't ride on like Paul Revere!
'Twill stay in ARLINGTON if you let it!— No more Boston! Just forget it!

News Briefs

Reichsfuehrer Hitler ousts Dr. Hjalmar Schacht as president of the Reichsbank. Several conservative directors also out. Perhaps Schacht's failure to make an agreement with England regarding their payment through increased exports from Germany for the opportunity of accepting German emigrants (practically penniless) is responsible. Dr. Schacht's lack of sympathy with Hitler's spending seems reason enough.

Nelson T. Johnson, our envoy to China, returns home. In twelve days he travels 2,100 miles over the new road from Chingking to British Burma, built with American and British capital. The road, built by hand and made within eight months, will aid in China's resistance to Japan.

Japan likes not the idea of fortifying Guam, 1500 miles from her shores. Neither does Senator Borah, who calls it "the most markedly aggressive and provocative military step of the kind" he has seen in 50 years.

The Senate members assail Hopkins for failure to stamp out partisan politics while head of the W. P. A., but confirmation as Secretary of Commerce was forthcoming just the same.

Likes George Harris For Selectman

Dear Editor: The announcement, which ran in your paper last week, stating that Mr. George A. Harris of 196 Cedar avenue, would seek election as Selectman, should be of interest to every woman in Arlington.

Mothers of growing children, as well as taxpayers, would do well to realize the importance to their families, to their tax bills, and to the welfare of the town, of a candidate of Mr. Harris' caliber.

As a long-time resident of Arlington, I know that Mr. Harris has worked quietly, and without benefit to himself, in the interest of making the town of Arlington a safer and happier place for our boys and girls. And I know that, as town meeting member, he has striven to curb the spending orgies of those who make and break town budgets regardless of taxpayers' pocketbooks.

I want to remind the women, and men, too, of Arlington that it is our civic duty to participate in the selection of those who are to be our governing officers. But even beyond that, it is our sacred duty in determining our selection of those town officers, to consider unselfishness of intention, conscientious effort, and integrity of purpose, as the unquestionable qualities dominating the man for whom we cast our votes.

In my mind, and in the minds of many other Arlington residents, there is no question that Mr. George A. Harris is such a man, and deserving of the support of every right-thinking voter of this town.

Respectfully yours,
MRS. MARY E. CROSBY

Arlington.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Grady Darling Feagan, Ph.D., Minister
Walter Howe, Mrs. B. A. A. G. O., Organist and Choir Director

On Sunday, January 29th, at 10:30, the Pastor will preach on "The Church Triumphant." As we look out over the world today, the Church certainly does not seem very triumphant. It is buffeted and persecuted in various countries and ignored by thousands even in America. What is the triumph of the Church? And what does its victory mean in everyday living? The large trained choir will sing.

Sunday School at noon with dynamic, progressive classes for all. The Men's Class will be taught by the Pastor, Subject, "Adoniram Judson, the Apostle to the Burmans." Here is a man whose red-blooded vigor and vision should challenge the heart of every stalwart among us!

Christian Endeavor—At 4 p. m. Juniors meet. Seniors and Intermediates hold their services at 6 o'clock. At 7 the Adelpheans have their program.

On Friday evening, February 3, the Pastor will lead the discussion on the topic: "The Silent Witnesses from the Age Ago." Both in Men's Class and in the recent prayer meetings we have studied the "Greathearts of Faith" during past ages. This evening we propose to present them, in all their sacrifice, loyalty and heroism, as the silent witnesses of our struggle who have staked their all on their faith that we would carry on. Welcome!

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"Love" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, January 29.

The Golden Text is: "How excellent is thy lovingkindness, O God! therefore the children of men put their trust under the shadow of thy wings" (Psalms 36:7).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "If ye love me, keep my commandments. . . . He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me; and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him" (John 14:15, 21).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The substance of all devotion is the rejection and demonstration of divine Love, healing sickness and destroying sin. Our Master said, 'If ye love me, keep my commandments'" (p. 241).

tar and the altar covering. They are of red velvet to match the dossal, and are embroidered with the religious symbolism of the early Christian church.

The beautiful gift is given by Mrs. Margaret D. Musgrave, a member of the church, in memory of her mother, Mrs. Rachel S. Cochrane of the Margareville Methodist church of Annapolis County, Nova Scotia. The altar pieces were designed and executed by another member of the church, Mrs. Carrie M. Hendricks. It is the plan of the donor to present the church with the other color sets before the memorial is completed.

The pulpit, which has recently been rebuilt, was consecrated Sunday, and is given in memory of Jeremiah Mayo, by his widow, Mrs. E. Mabel Mayo.

The next step in the forward program of Calvary will be the addition of a new pipe organ which the officials hope will be possible before too long.

D. A. Wilcox Urges Early Contributions To Community Fund

scriptions are urged by David A. Wilcox, community chairman for Arlington, that they may be included in the "Dutch Treat" report luncheons, which began yesterday at the Boston City Club.

"A red feather in your cap" is the slogan of the hour, according to Mr. Wilcox. The red feather, he explained, has come to be the emblem of Greater Boston's Community Fund, the badge of a 'better neighbor' to the sick, the needy and the unfortunate.

"Looking at it from an entirely selfish point of view, we may subscribe to the Community Fund because we want to live in a place that is safe and wholesome," he declared. "For we know that crime, delinquency and disease know no town or city lines."

"But looking at it from the unselfish standpoint, I believe we want to give the other fellow a chance. We want to help little children, to guide youth, to aid families in distress, to give people a chance to become independent citizens."

"Our dollars will go a long way toward building happier citizens in 1939," he said. "Every dollar we give makes possible three dollars worth of service, since Greater Boston's Community Fund now provides but one-third of the amount actually expended by its agencies each year."

"Let's all pull together here in Arlington, and make a proud record for our community," was the challenge of Mr. Wilcox as he sped the local solicitors on their way to success.

COMMUNITY CLASSES WILL RESUME TONIGHT

the Arlington Woman's Club, with Mrs. M. Norcross Stratton, chairman.

All the repeat courses were well patronized, but particularly popular Monday evening were two of the lecture courses. The many who crowded Dr. A. Martyn Finlay's room found his lecture on the "New Zealand Experiment" intensely interesting. Dr. Finlay is a research fellow at Harvard law school and is giving the course here in international relations.

Winifred King Rugg's book review lecture was also extremely popular.

Classes will be resumed this evening (Thursday) and if past years are any guide, the law lectures by Philip A. Hendrick, scheduled to start tonight, will be the big drawing card.

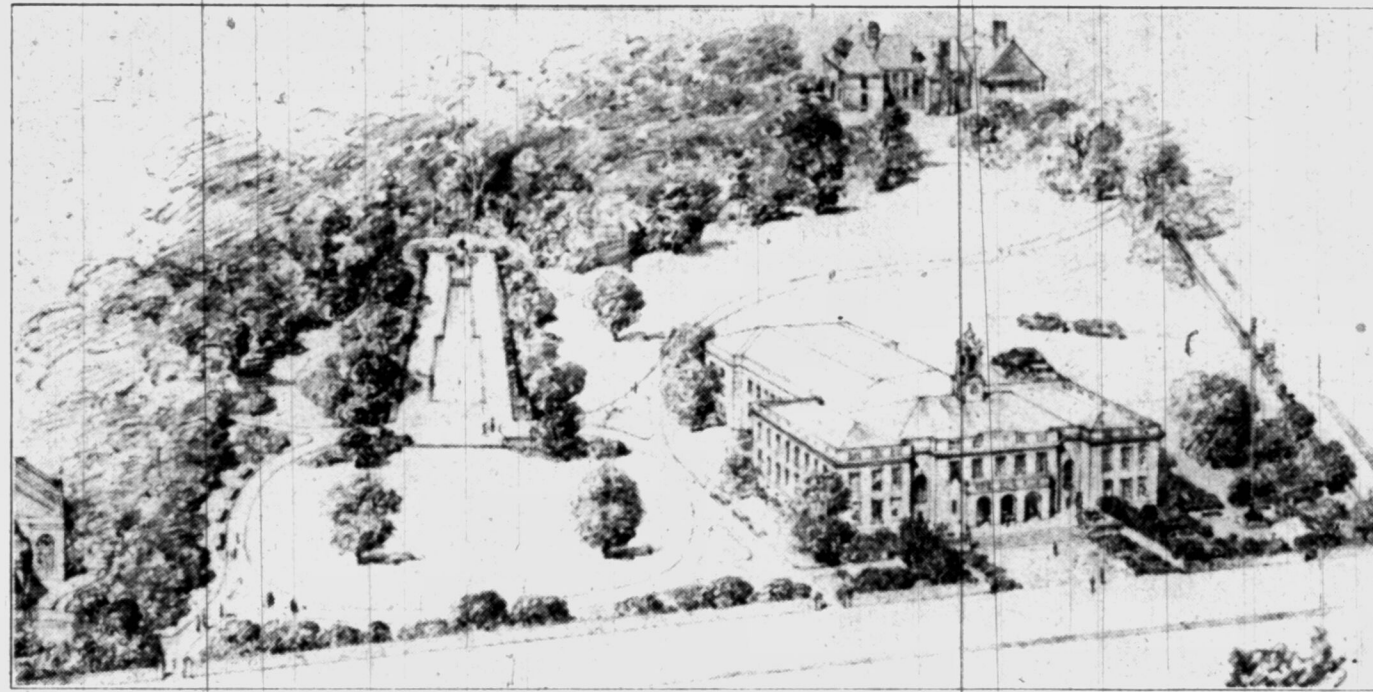

St. John's to Celebrate Rector's Twenty-Fifth

St. John's parish has sent out invitations to a reception for Rev. and Mrs. Charles Taber Hall to be held in the parish hall Wednesday evening, February 8. Mr. Hall assumed the rectorship of the Arlington church twenty-five years ago that date, and the reception is in celebration of that anniversary.

SELECTMEN EXPLAIN PLANS FOR NEW TOWN HALL PARK

connection of Mr. Winfield Robbins, of regard for the memory of Mr. Robbins. In his last will, bequeathed to Cairn, Ida F. and Eliza Robbins, Trustees under his will, a sum of money in trust to be used for the improvement and embellishment of the Robbins Memorial Town Hall and the grounds connected therewith.

"Subsequent to Judge Wallace's death, this bequest was paid over to Miss Ida F. Robbins and her sisters as Trustees. The Misses Ida and Cairn devoted much thought and attention to the adoption of a suitable plan for the performance of their duties in the expenditure of this fund. Definite plans took form last year and they employed the services of Olmsted Brothers,

THE PLAN AS A WHOLE

This sketch clearly shows the principal features of the Robbins Memorial Town Hall re-landscaping project, made possible by the will of the late Judge William J. Wallace. It shows the low limestone wall which will start at the Robbins Library and tie the two buildings together in one big park area. It shows the Indian at the head of the pool and run, which will be lined with gardens and trees, the new arrangements of walks and benches and the new trees which will be planted to give the Indian a perfect background and to cut off the architectural inharmonious of Junior High School Center.

well-known landscape architects, to develop plans for the improvement of the grounds surrounding the Robbins Memorial Town Hall as follows:

1. Improvement of the area about the Dallin Indian, altering the formal character of existing water features to produce an informal, wooded, rocky environment, including the introduction of a naturalistic planting as a background to the Indian.
2. Construction of a low boundary wall along the street property lines, of limestone similar in color and character to the stone used in the Town Hall with a view to "tying together" the Town Hall and Library into one visual composition, and to provide greater privacy for users of the park area between the buildings; also a fence along the Junior High School property line to discourage pedestrian traffic across the Town Hall grounds to the School and confine it to proper paths.
3. Removal of certain hedges

SANATORIUM HEADS TALK ON INSULIN TO ARLINGTON DOCTORS

the joint meeting of the Arlington and Belmont doctors clubs, annually held at the Ring Sanatorium, Arlington Heights. The meeting was held in Hamburg Hall on the Sanatorium grounds, and was followed by a buffet supper. Dr. Sidney M. Simons, president of the Arlington club, and Dr. Stephen J. Malone, president of the Belmont club, presided jointly.

Insulin, a glandular preparation made from the sweetbreads of animals, has been used since its development in 1922 in the treatment of diabetic conditions. More recently, it has been in the public eye as a treatment for some severe types of mental illness, such as schizophrenia. Dr. Manfred Sakel, a Viennese physician who developed its use in the latter connection, has also used it to treat drug addiction. Doctors McAdoo and Prout stated that they were well satisfied with their experience in using it to treat similar cases, and went on to describe how they had extended its scope to include alcoholism.

Insulin, they stated, is not a cure for drunkenness, but it does help the patient to carry on through the trying period when he may be in the well-known stage of seeing "pink elephants." Not only does it reduce the patient's tendency to see these weird hallucinations and hear the strange sounds that go with them, but it also reduces the great terrors which he experiences, the doctors declared. Their studies showed that the dose of insulin required for each case is different, and might be large in a small man and small in a large man. The reason for this occasional contradiction, they said, is not known. Doses of from 10 to 25 units were given repeatedly to patients in their terrified condition, with the result that they became calm much more quickly than with other forms of treatment proposed for this condition.

In 8 cases in which the insulin treatment was used at the Ring Sanatorium, Doctors McAdoo and Prout told the meeting, the average duration of the mental disturbance and its terrifying hallucinations was 50 hours; in 8 similar cases in which other treatments were used the average duration was 220 hours.

The speakers said that it is better to continue the insulin for 24 hours after the hallucinations have disappeared, to prevent their recurrence. They added that it is not necessary to inject large quantities of the drug; such as is required in the treatment of schizophrenia, where the patient must be brought to the stage of shock in order to gain beneficial effect. They warned, however, that since it is impossible to predict beforehand whether a severe reaction to the drug would be reached in any given case, the dose of insulin must carefully be regulated, and the patient must be under observation by trained personnel.

The Ducks Will Starve

The ducks are hungry. The feed purchased by the Middlesex Club is nearly gone and unless more feed is obtained shortly, the ducks will die.

A representative of the state department of Game and Fisheries takes the absurd position that if the club and others did not feed the ducks they would leave for other parts. These ducks, no longer wild, have become domesticated. They would not leave but would remain to starve.

The birds would much appreciate it if feed were delivered to the Middlesex Sportsman's Association clubhouse to be distributed by Sante Chestaro and by this it is not meant a bun or two, but corn, grain or bread by the bushel.

21 CLUB TO RUN DANCE FOR COMMUNITY CHEST

A very interesting program is now in process under the direction of the Charron Studio of Dancing, which will delight both the young and old. Many novelty numbers have been promised for this occasion. The entertainment will be from eight to nine. The music for the dancing will be from nine until one, by Bob Adams and his orchestra. Proceeds will be used to assist in making up the deficit of about $9,000 from the 1938 Appeal of the Community Chest.

Herbert J. Rogers, secretary of the club, is chairman of the ball. All members of the club are working hard to make this a grand success and urge the full co-operation of every resident in the town.

Local Merchant's Truck and Garage Destroyed by Fire

Great clouds of smoke in the misty atmosphere of Tuesday noon attracted a large number of people to the fire in the garage at the rear of 46 Mt. Vernon street, which did some very considerable damage, including the truck in the garage owned by Robert E. Kneupper, proprietor of the Arlington Hardware Company. Another garage backing up to the Kneupper property was also slightly damaged. The second garage is owned by Albert L. Briggs of 5 Scituate street.

Perverting Humorist Pulls Four False Alarms Here

Last Thursday night someone went through this town twice in an automobile and on each occasion pulled two false alarms from widely separated boxes, but only a few minutes apart. Someone, probably the same perverted humorist, pulled the same stunt last summer, going on to sound alarms in other towns. The first pair Thursday night came at about six-thirty, one box being at Washington street and Ronald road and the second at Winchester and Hutchinson roads. The boxes at Gray street and Churchill avenue and Appleton street and Dow avenue were pulled about an hour later.

Obituaries

MRS. BENJAMIN W. PENNY

Funeral services for Mrs. Cora Elizabeth Penny, who had lived in Arlington for the past seven years, were held from her late home, 75 Winter street, Tuesday afternoon. Burial was in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

Mrs. Penny, who died at her home on January 21, was born in Richmond, Maine, fifty-four years ago, daughter of James Frost and Elizabeth Cunningham.

MRS. HARRIET E. HALL

Friends of Mrs. Harry R. Smith of 76 Eastern avenue sympathize with her because of the death of her mother at her home, on January 23. The deceased, Mrs. Harriet E. Hall, was eighty-four years old and was the widow of Charles E. Hall. She was born in Killingworth, Connecticut, and was the daughter of Elisha Nettleton and Mary Hall. Funeral services were held in Wallingford, Connecticut, yesterday afternoon and burial was in the cemetery there.

MRS. ANNE M. MacNEIL

Mrs. Anne M. MacNeil, widow of Roderick D. MacNeil and a late member of the Third Order of St. Francis, died at her home, 818 Massachusetts avenue, on January 18, in her eighty-third year. Funeral services were held from her late residence Saturday morning, and high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Agnes' church. Burial was in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

Mrs. MacNeil, who had lived in this town for the past twenty years, was born in Cork, Ireland, daughter of William Daley and Mary Kelly.

MRS. MARY ELIZABETH RICE

Yesterday, January 25, marked the death of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Rice in her ninety-ninth year. Mrs. Rice had lived in Arlington ever since her marriage to the late Marshall N. Rice fifty years ago and during the life-time of her husband made her home in the big house which stands at the head of Pelham terrace with its beautiful grounds running through to Academy street. At the time of her death she was living at 16 Peabody road, where funeral services will be held tomorrow (Friday) afternoon at two o'clock, with Rev. John Nicol Mark, minister of the First Parish (Unitarian) church, officiating. Burial will be in the family lot in Mt. Auburn cemetery, Cambridge.

Mrs. Rice was born in Boston, December 3, 1840, daughter of William Stowe and Elizabeth Sargent. She is survived by three sons, Charles H. Rice of Lexington and late president of the hospital, Horatio A. Phinney, a gift of Cyrus Dallin, the sculptor, who is a trustee of the hospital.

Drs. Stickney, Towle, and Jones spoke briefly in tribute to Mr. Phinney before the unveiling of the plaque. Mrs. Carolyn Reed, chairman of the memorial committee, ably responded to Mr. Dallin's presentation and in turn presented the bas relief to the trustees. Eben Dewing, president, accepted the gift. A basket of beautiful flowers, sent by Mrs. Phinney, who was unable to be present, stood by the bas relief.

At the business meeting of the trustees which followed these officers were re-elected: Eben Dewing, president; Harold G. Storke, clerk; and Walter D. Chamberlain, treasurer.

Dr. Richard Oehler closed the evening with a brief talk on "Objectives For Hospitals."

William G. Rice and Harold Rice, both of this town. She also leaves two grandchildren, Corryell Rice and Elizabeth Rice of Arlington.

MRS. CHARLES E. GOODWIN

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Agnes Goodwin, wife of Charles Edgar Goodwin, were held from her late home, 82 Grafton street, Saturday morning. High mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Agnes' church, and burial was in the High street cemetery, Hingham.

Mrs. Goodwin, who had lived in Arlington for the past eighteen years, passed away at her home on January 18. She was born in Boston sixty years ago, daughter of John F. Brennan and Bridget Donahue.

MISS MARY A. MCCARTHY

Miss Mary A. McCarthy, who formerly lived in Somerville and at Roberts Cove, Carraghlin, Ireland, passed away at the home of her niece, Mrs. Mary Dolan McCoy, at 81 Hillside avenue, on January 19, at the age of sixty-one. Funeral services were held at the home Saturday morning and solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. James' church. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery, West Roxbury.
